Scope of the conference: This year's conference focuses on the Next Generation of Energy Solutions. Although we encourage submissions related to this theme, we also welcome research in solar and wind power across a broad range of topics. The conference aims to comprehensively cover various aspects of these sustainable energy sources, including, but not limited to, harvesting and generation technologies, innovative designs, system advancements, distribution and storage solutions, materials science, social implications, and economic considerations.

Length and Format: The main text, like the author names used font, 14 point for the Author names and 12 point for the remainder of the abstract. Type or paste your text into this file, but remember to keep the page margins the same as is set here which is 2.5 cm all round. Paragraphs are justified (straight-edged) on both left and right.

Use single-line spacing and leave a line gap between paragraphs. This helps your text to be read easily. If you would like to insert a figure you can do so but do remember to include a figure caption.

The limit for your abstract is one page. Abstracts that do not meet these formatting requirements will be returned. The scientific committee reserves the right to edit abstracts for clarity or correctness of English, but will consult the author if any significant changes are needed.

Acknowledgement may be inserted as the last paragraph of the text body. Please use Numbered-referencing style and add a reference list at the end of the abstract.

Submission: Please submit your abstract using the On-line Submission System

The abstract submission deadline is March 15th. There is no fee for submission of an abstract, but if it is accepted, you will be required to pay the outstanding registration fee in full by the deadline of 8th May 2024.

Abstracts will be peer reviewed by the conference scientific committee. We will let you know by email whether your abstract has been accepted or not by Monday 1st April 2024.

If your abstract is accepted, then you will be invited to submit a 4 pages article by the 22nd April 2024. The abstracts and articles will subsequently be published as part of a conference proceedings as a fully open-access publication.

If you have any problems with the submissions, please contact: solarandwind@napier.ac.uk
