The screenshot shows a GOV.UK news story page. At the top, the GOV.UK logo is on the left, and a search icon and 'Menu' dropdown are on the right. Below the logo, the breadcrumb navigation reads 'Home > Crime, justice and law > Crime prevention'. The main heading is 'News story' followed by the title 'Pioneering new tools to be rolled out in fight against child abusers'. The sub-headline reads: 'New "game-changing" innovations to improve the capability of the Child Abuse Image Database will speed up investigations and automatically categorise indecent images.' Below this, the source is listed as 'From: Home Office and The Rt Hon Sajid Javid MP' and the publication date as 'Published 12 July 2019'. At the bottom, there is a photograph of two men in a server room. The man on the left, wearing a blue suit, is gesturing while speaking to the man on the right, who is wearing a white shirt. To the right of the photo, a caption reads: 'The head of the cyber forensics unit of the Metropolitan Police showed the Home Secretary the new equipment.'
